

Limestone barrens

The Limestone Barrens Habitat Stewardship Program presented photographs and information during a District 3 Heritage Fair at Corner Brook earlier this month. Program co-ordinator Dulcie House (right) explains to Jonathan Austin, Mike Maddigan and Trevor Bennett how the taproots of limestone barrens flora help the plants adapt to their environment. She was displaying a small specimen of a preserved Fernald's braya.

(Contributed photo)

Northern Pen., Monday MAY 12, 2003