

Northern Pen 2005

CONTRIBUTED PHOTO

Good stewards

Grade 5 students at Straits Elementary in Flowers Cove recently made quilt squares during art class. Each square holds a picture of a plant found on the limestone barrens. The squares were later assembled into a quilt and hung in the gym. There are many plants that are not included in the quilt, but students really enjoyed doing this activity. It reminded them of their promise to be good stewards of the barrens.